COMMENTS

In most economic zones, the economic outlook is darkening. This is particularly the case for the manufacturing sectors, which show activity levels that are nil or in contraction. For the time being, particularly in Europe and the United States, the economy is mainly supported by household consumption, which manages to absorb inflation thanks to wage increases, a consequence of very low unemployment rates.

This has the consequence of maintaining inflation levels very well above the targets of central bankers who continue to tighten already very restrictive financial conditions. In April as in March, the markets are making a bold bet that the sluggish economy will lead central banks to ease their monetary policy in the coming months without this sluggishness turning into a recession.

Last month market volatility remained very low. The main equity indices recorded timid increases of around 1% or 2%. Similar situation on the bond markets. Over the month, the US 10-year rate fell 5 bps to 3.42%. At the same time, stability of the German 10-year rate at 2.30%. Flat calm on the private debt market as well, with risk premiums posting a slight decline. The IG spread in € closed the month at 162 bps, down 7 bps.

In this context, the portfolio underwent very little change. Bond sensitivity stood at 3.67 at the end of the month, a level equivalent to that of the benchmark index (3.65). Regarding exposure to credit risk, we are still maintaining a cautious strategy. Compared to the IG market in euros, the relative exposure of MWOI remained close to 50%. In April, the fund's performance (+1.05% for the CS unit and +1.01% for the CI unit) was in line with that of its benchmark index (+0.98%).
